Fall in the city:

Fall is a beautiful time the air is refreshing, the leaves are changing colours, and creating enchanting scenery in the process. As a result, the scenes in and around Calgary right now are spectacular, proving that there really is no other season like fall, take a stroll by the river with your family, enjoy the lovely colours and fresh air and of course the wonderful fall events going on in and around the city.

Meditation in the workplace:

We are thrilled that Iris is back and will be setting up the meditation room in our office, we look forward to learning from Iris's teachings on how to become more self-aware with being mindful for our overall health.

The success of any business begins with the individual because innovation and inspiration are born at the individual level. The potential for greatness is inside each person that realizes there are infinite possibilities all around them, and that their creativity is limitless. Unfortunately, most individuals find that their potential is seriously limited by stress
